Example of graph using combined data from Western Australia Lower House dataset and cube.

The Lower House data and the Party data can be downloaded using your preferred software. The two separate spreadsheets can be combined by election year to produce a spreadsheet containing both sets of data.

The table below is a graph using this combined data.